

Israel Discount Bank Limited

Update

Key Rating Drivers

Support Drives Ratings: The Issuer Default Ratings (IDRs) of Israel Discount Bank Limited (IDB) reflect Fitch Ratings' view of a very high probability that Israel (A/Negative/F1+) would provide support to IDB, if needed. Fitch assesses Israel's ability and propensity to support IDB as very high, particularly given the bank's systemic importance in the country, with about 15% of banking system assets.

Universal Banking Franchise: IDB's Viability Rating (VR) reflects a good domestic universal banking franchise, improved asset quality and profitability, and adequate capitalisation and funding. While IDB is now required to reduce its shareholdings in its credit card subsidiary, Israel Credit Cards Ltd. (Cal), to improve competition, this does not significantly alter our view of IDB's business profile.

High Loan Growth: The bank has grown its mortgage book in recent years, taking market share from competitors, but we view this segment as lower risk due to conservative underwriting standards as a result of prudent regulatory limits and close oversight. IDB has also grown construction and real estate lending, a higher-risk subsector, though demand is driven by high population growth, which supports housing credit demand and mitigates risks.

Sound Asset Quality: Impaired loans were 0.8% of gross loans at end-1H24, which compares favourably to both domestic and international peers. Loan growth has been high in recent years, so we expect higher loan impairment charges as new loans season. We also expect the impaired loans ratio to be slightly higher than domestic peers through the cycle as long as IDB owns a credit card subsidiary, but to remain below 1.5% over the next two years.

Growth, Higher Rates Benefit Earnings: Net interest income has benefitted from interest-rate rises and higher loan volumes in recent years. Operating profitability, which has historically been lower than peers', is benefitting from improved cost efficiency, with a Fitch-calculated cost/income ratio of 52% in 1H24, compared with an average of 68% over the past decade. We expect operating profit to continue to benefit from net interest income, due to higher interest rates and improving cost controls.

Adequate Capital Buffers: Headroom in our assessment is limited, but capitalisation has remained adequate, with a 10.67% common equity Tier 1 (CET1) ratio at end-1H24 versus its 9.19% minimum regulatory requirement. We expect the bank to manage its capitalisation proactively, particularly during periods of high growth, and to maintain the current buffers over regulatory requirements.

Our capitalisation assessment also considers the bank's improved internal capital generation and its fairly high ratio of RWAs to total assets (end-1H24: 72%), as the bank uses the standardised approach to calculate credit-risk RWAs.

Sound Funding and Liquidity: IDB's 91% loans/deposits ratio is higher than its largest domestic peers, but broadly in line with international peers. Funding benefits from the bank's stable and granular deposit base, split equally between retail and corporate deposits. Liquidity is sound, with a liquidity coverage ratio of 133% at end-1H24.

IDB's 'F1+' Short-Term IDR is the higher of two possible Short-Term IDRs that map to an 'A' Long-Term IDR. This is because we view the sovereign's propensity to support as more certain in the near term.

Rating Sensitivities

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

A further downgrade of the sovereign ratings would result in a downgrade of IDB's Long-Term IDR and senior debt ratings if accompanied by a downgrade of the bank's VRs.

A sharp deterioration of asset quality that results in an impaired loan ratio of above 2% for an extended period, combined with the CET1 declining below current levels and weakening internal capital generation, could result in a VR downgrade. Given the bank's significant exposure to the real estate sector, a sharp decline in real estate prices would put pressure on asset quality, and therefore on the VR.

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

An upgrade of IDB's IDRs is unlikely due to the Negative Outlook on the sovereign's Long-Term IDR. We would revise the Outlook to Stable if the sovereign Outlook is changed to Stable.

An upgrade of IDB's VR is unlikely given the bank's geographical concentration and would require a material and structural improvement in profitability that allows the bank to generate stronger and more stable operating profit/RWAs ratio, while also maintaining materially higher capital ratios, which we do not expect.

Other Debt and Issuer Ratings

Rating level	Rating
Senior unsecured: long term	A-

Source: Fitch Ratings

The rating of IDB's USD800 million senior unsecured notes is in line with IDB's IDR and the baseline approach for senior debt ratings under our criteria. This reflects our view that a default on senior unsecured debt equates to a default of the bank. It also reflects Fitch's expectation of average recovery prospects.

Significant Changes from Last Review

IDB reported improved profitability in 1H24, with an annualised operating profit/RWAs ratio of 2.4%, which is higher than the past three financial years. Asset quality has proven resilient, and the impaired loans ratio fell to 0.8% at end-1H24 (end-2023: 0.9%).

Capitalisation is stable, and the CET1 ratio has benefitted from the regulator's directive for banks to limit shareholder distributions due to the war. The loans/deposits ratio has increased to 91%, but liquidity remains strong.

In August 2024, IDB announced the sale of a 15% equity stake in its US subsidiary, Israel Discount Bank of New York (IDBNY) to an investment fund. Given IDBNY's small size compared to the wider group, this does not affect our assessment of IDB.

Sovereign Downgrade

On 15 August 2024 we downgraded IDB's support-driven Long-Term IDR to 'A-' from 'A' following a downgrade of the sovereign rating. The Negative Outlook on the Long-Term IDR reflects that on the sovereign's Long-Term IDR.

The sovereign downgrade reflected the impact of the continuation of the war in Gaza, and the lower sovereign rating reflects a weakened ability to support the banking sector. Our assessment of the propensity of the Israeli sovereign to support the banking sector has not changed.

IDB's IDRs are driven by its GSR, which is in line with the domestic systemically important bank (D-SIB) GSR for Israel and reflects Fitch's view of a very high probability that Israel would provide support to IDB, if needed. Fitch believes Israel's ability and propensity to support IDB are very high, particularly given IDB's systemic importance in the country with a market share of about 15% of banking-sector assets.

How to Read This Page
ESG relevance scores range from 1 to 5 based on a 15-level color gradation. Red (5) is most relevant to the credit rating and green (1) is least relevant.

The Environmental (E), Social (S) and Governance (G) tables break out the ESG general issues and the sector-specific issues that are most relevant to each industry group. Relevance scores are assigned to each sector-specific issue, signaling the credit-relevance of the sector-specific issues to the issuer's overall credit rating. The Criteria Reference column highlights the factor(s) within which the corresponding ESG issues are captured in Fitch's credit analysis. The vertical color bars are visualizations of the frequency of occurrence of the highest constituent relevance scores. They do not represent an aggregate of the relevance scores or aggregate ESG credit relevance.

The Credit-Relevant ESG Derivation table's far right column is a visualization of the frequency of occurrence of the highest ESG relevance scores across the combined E, S and G categories. The three columns to the left of ESG Relevance to Credit Rating summarize rating relevance and impact to credit from ESG issues. The box on the far left identifies any ESG Relevance Sub-factor issues that are drivers or potential drivers of the issuer's credit rating (corresponding with scores of 3, 4 or 5) and provides a brief explanation for the relevance score. All scores of '4' and '5' are assumed to result in a negative impact unless indicated with a '+' sign for positive impact. Scores of 3, 4 or 5) and provides a brief explanation for the score.

CREDIT-RELEVANT ESG SCALE
How relevant are E, S and G issues to the overall credit rating?

5	Highly relevant, a key rating driver that has a significant impact on the rating on an individual basis. Equivalent to "higher" relative importance within Navigator.
4	Relevant to rating, not a key rating driver but has an impact on the rating in combination with other factors. Equivalent to "moderate" relative importance within Navigator.
3	Minimally relevant to rating, either very low impact or actively managed in a way that results in no impact on the rating. Equivalent to "lower" relative importance within Navigator.
2	Irrelevant to the entity rating but relevant to the sector.
1	Irrelevant to the entity rating and irrelevant to the sector.

The highest level of ESG credit relevance is a score of '3', unless otherwise disclosed in this section. A score of '3' means ESG issues are credit neutral or have only a minimal credit impact on the entity, either due to their nature or the way in which they are being managed by the entity. Fitch's ESG Relevance Scores are not inputs in the rating process; they are an observation on the relevance and materiality of ESG factors in the rating decision.
